

Booker VENUE

I AM STILL HERE!

Just wanted to reassure all my loyal clients and supporters that Booker Venue is very much still here and waiting for the storm to pass! Ready for the events industry to get back on its feet. Carina has had many virtual and some face to face meetings with venue and hotel account managers and keeping up to speed with all the updates and changes. Things may look different but we can still host some events

.....

SMALL EVENTS UP TO 30 PEOPLE

Following the government guidelines, small events of up to 30 people are allowed as long as they are hosted in COVID secure venues. Booker Venue will get all the relevant information and find you the ideal venue for your small event

Booker VENUE

ITS A VIRTUAL WORLD

At Booker Venue we desperately want to get people meeting and having fun together again but we know at the moment, it cant happen for larger groups or for social events. This doesnt mean that we cant still have fun. We will send you a seperate document full of unique ideas that we can provide for you and your business to celebrate and still enjoy some festive cheer.

HELPING OUR VENUES

Its a very hard time for a lot of people but for the venue finding and events world, its nothing short of a nightmare. If you can support a venue, sales person or venue finder (thats me!) even in a small way, then do, as sadly i see too many of my wonderful industry colleagues out of work. We will recover but we need help. We are stronger together.....

Booker VENUE

VENUES ARE OPENING!

Many venues have been closed for months. They are now reopening. Do not underestimate the work that has had to go into making the venues Covid safe and secure. They want and need your business. They are being flexible with terms and are desperate to be busy again.

We need to get this industry back on its feet again and hope with the help of my loyal clients, that it will happen soon.

TOO MUCH TIME

Sadly i have had too much time on my hands over the past few months. I have loved gardening, sharing time with my family and having the rare chance to relax but i wont lie, i have been getting bored and sometimes a little down.

Mental Health has always been important to me and i have proudly supported MIND UK since the beginning

Booker VENUE

BRANCHING OUT

Normally 10% of my profit goes to charity, since march this has sadly meant that very little has been donated from Booker Venue.

With time on my hands, a desire to be busy, wanting to keep my mental health in good shape, i started to think of other ways to earn which would work alongside Booker Venue. So a few weeks ago i plucked up yhe courage and signed up to become a TROPIC SKINCARE & BEAUTY AMBASSADOR..... I chose this brand for several reasons:

The founder is a female enterprenur who belived in herself and her brand

They donate a percentage of their profit to charity

They are an ethical brand with strong values

Its a hobby i can run alongside my business when things go back to 'normal'

i did wonder whether i should keep it quiet, i felt a sense of embarrasment about branching out but then i realised that in these unusual times, we should be honest, help each other and nurture relationships and new hobbies are fun!

i hope more than anything that soon, Booker Venue will be busy and thriving again but in the meantime if you are interested in finding out more about this ethical, sustainable, vegan, natural, cruelty free and award winning brand please have a look at the link below

<https://www.tropicskincare.com/carina-booker>

Booker VENUE

THANK YOU!

Booker Venue was launched at the beginning of 2018.

with the support of my family and friends, i stepped into my new business full of excitement and a desire to succeed.

I was overwhelmed with how amazing my first 2 years of business were. i really couldnt have asked for it to be any better. Since day 1, my clients have always been my priority and they always will.

I cannot wait to be busy again and doing what i love.

THANK YOU to each and every one of your for your continued support. Please share my details where you can and i really hope to see you all very soon
TAKE CARE and THANK YOU

carina@bookervenue.co.uk
www.bookervenue.co.uk

Carina xx